Recitation Webpage:

Recitation Description:
The purpose of this recitation is to supplement the main lecture with different perspectives on material. Recitation provides students with a smaller setting in which they can freely ask questions, get one-on-one feedback, improve mathematics skills, and collaborate with their peers to enhance understanding.

Grading:
This recitation is worth 20% of your total grade. This will be divided as 10% for attendance and 10% for participation. Participation points will be earned by engaging in individual/group work and by completing various assigned problems.

Student Expectations:
• Attend as many recitations as possible
• Be on time
• Participate in individual/group work (Do not just get answers from friends to get the participation points. Think about problems yourself and collaborate if needed.)
• Be mentally present (Don’t come to class and leave your mind somewhere else. This includes electronic distractions.)

Student Questions:
At the end of every class day students will write down any question they have about me, the course, or the material on a small piece of paper. This is your chance to make yourself heard if you haven’t been able to in class. I will anonymously post questions and answers on the recitation webpage. On days that we do not have time to do individual/group work I will use these questions for the attendance points.
